EDITING

We edit your tracks meticulously to assure your audio is seamless, pristine and broadcast ready. Included in our services is removal of pops, crackles, and unwanted leakage. Editing refines your recording and prepares it for mixing.

Mixing

Once editing is completed, we enter the Mixing stage. Mixing entails processing your edited recording through industry standard processors and plug-ins to ensure maximum sonic clarity and quality of your recording. This process gives your project that sheen and luster that many of your listeners are used to hearing in our High Definition World. Once the mix sounds awesome and meets your approval, we prepare for the final stage – before worldwide release Mastering.

Mastering

Mastering is the final process your recording receives before World Wide Distribution. Enhancing the overall sound and level of the recording it also give a final listening to the project, which assure your recording is, ready for the world. Mastering creates uniformity of your recording and if you are doing a multiple songs gives the over all project the feeling your listeners long for, leaving your mix sounding loud while preserving the dynamics range that allow your audience that pleasurable sonic experience.
